

REAL ESTATE WEEKLY

December 9, 2009

WHO'S NEWS

Sierra Realty Corp. has brought aboard Shane Neuringer as senior vice president of acquisitions and finance.

Neuringer will be responsible for acquisitions as well as debt and equity finance of investment properties.

Neuringer has 14-plus years of experience in real estate acquisitions, finance, development and asset management. He has been involved in more than $3 billion worth of residential and commercial acquisitions and development projects, primarily in New York City.

Prior to joining Sierra, Neuringer was vice president of acquisitions and development for CB Developers. Before that, he held senior positions with Stellar Management, Rockrose Development and Sentinel Real Estate, beginning his career with Stillman Group.

He holds an M.S. in Real Estate Investment and Development from New York University and received his B.A. from the University of Colorado at Boulder, with concentrations in urban planning and policy and journalism. In addition, Neuringer has been a guest lecturer for graduate real estate programs at Columbia University and New York University.